

Pray for the soldier

A soldier comes home with his body and his mind

But his soul is hidden, somewhere too hard to find.

He struggles with loved ones who just don't understand

Just what he lost in that far off hostile land.

Most try to conform to what others expect.

But what they really need is our love and respect.

They fought for you here so that all may be free

To worship our Lord who died for you and me.

Pray for our soldiers

Pray for our country
